CALENDARS

OF THE

NAMES OF LANCASHIRE FAMILIES

WHOSE DESCENTS WERE ENTERED IN THE SUCCESSIVE

Visitations of that County.

THE following Calendars of the names of the families which entered descents in the four Heraldic Visitations of Lancashire, may require some brief prefatory explanation as to the nature of such Visitations during the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries.

The College of Arms consisted then, as it now does, of Kings of Arms, Heralds, and Pursuivants, appointed by Patent and subordinate to the Earl Marshal, or Commissioners appointed for executing that Office. At the present day, the granting or "confirming" (as, in some cases, it is termed) armorial ensigns to persons fit to bear them, but not entitled to do so, is the privilege of the Kings of Arms, under the Earl Marshal's warrant; but where hereditary claims are preferred, the descents upon which the claims are founded are presented in a Chapter of the body, after report from Examiners nominated by it, and the Chapter decide upon the descent after such report, but the Kings of Arms must assent to any allowance of Arms. Among the subjects usually brought before them are allowances of hereditary Arms, registrations of Genealogies, succession to Baronetcies, claims of Royal descent with reference to Cambridge honorary degrees, and of Founder's kin, &c. with regard to Scholarships and Fellowships in the Universities. In the VISITATIONS the sphere of heraldic jurisdiction was greatly increased, as many points were left to the decision of the authorized Deputies, but still, in very many cases, points were respited or referred to London for consideration.

Dallaway (1) erroneously asserts the existence of Visitations as early as the time of Henry IV., seventy years before the incorporation of the College, but no Commission of Visitation was granted previous to that directed to Thomas Benolt, Clarenceux, in 1528-9, 20th Henry VIII. When Royal Commissions commanding Visitations were issued, a King at Arms, sometimes attended by Heralds, sometimes deputing them, was empowered to visit his Province, or part of it. The Visitant summoned, with aid of the Civil authorities, persons supposed to use Arms rightfully, and adjudicated on their claims, - summoned also usurpers of such rights and compelled them to disclaim, and had the "disclaimers" read at the Market Cross, excepting where grants or patents of confirmation were issued. He also examined memorials in Churches, removed improper ones, and directed proceedings against those who encroached on the rights or practice of his College. (2)

(1) Heraldic Enquiries, p. 163. The error of Dallaway, who has been followed by Noble, (Hist. Coll. Arm. Appendix, xx.) turns on his having mistaken a loose and unauthentic note attached to Alsop's Pedigree in Harl. M.S., 1196, for the title of an actual Visitation Book of the date mentioned, and is fully explained in Grimaldi's Origines Genealogicæ, p. 252.

In the same accurate work, however, p. 84, will be found a Writ, dated 5 Henry V., and addressed to the Sheriffs of the Southern Counties, directing proceedings based on a principle like that of Visitations, so far as regards Arms. It directs submission of them to Commissioners, by the persons about to join in an Expedition (saving those only who had borne arms at Agincourt) under penalty of non-admission to the Expedition, forfeiture of pledges in such cases, and rasure and rending of Arms and Surcoats.

(2) Local Antiquaries seem to have been of material use in the Visitations of the Palatinates. Vernon had long previously corresponded with Dugdale on Cheshire Antiquities, and Kuerden is supposed to have aided him during and after his Lancashire Visit, which is countenanced by a Note in the Broughton Calendar of this Visitation, "Holden of Holden did pay Norroys fees to Dr. Kuerden and entered his name into the Herald's Booke, Nov. 12, 1668." Extracts from Exchequer

Copies of these Commissions are given by Dallaway. (1) The Records of the Genealogies entered under them constitute the MSS. called "Visitations," and all original Visitations and Funeral Certificates are received as evidence in the House of Lords, and Courts of Law. (2)

It is undoubted that much confusion exists in the earlier parts of many of the genealogies recorded in these documents, but where they were fairly drawn from deeds or records, their value is very great to the legal enquirer, and in every case they furnish aid for the combination of such scattered evidences as may still be recoverable. Of their interest to the representatives, the genealogist, or the general antiquary, it is unnecessary to speak.

Lists of the Visitations will be found in Anstis's Calendar printed in the Collectanea Curiosa, in Dallaway's Heraldic Enquiries, Noble's History of the Herald's College, and Moule's Bibliotheca Heraldica; but the most comprehensive is in the second edition of the List compiled by Sir H. Nicolas, 8vo, 1825. They commence (in the stricter sense of Visitation) with the Commission issued to Benolt in 1528-9. To him the first Lancashire Visitation of 1533 is sometimes ascribed, (as aftermentioned,) and it was followed by those of Flower in 1567, Richard St. George in 1613, and Dugdale in 1664.

A coeval duplicate, or a draft, (as it may be) of the first Visitation, Glover's autograph copy of the second, and the original MS.

Records, the local Domesday Roll, Inquisitions as to Wards of the Earldom, &c., preserved in Flower's Cheshire volume, evince the pains that were taken by the more intelligent Heralds.

Dugdale's Diary of his Lancashire and Cheshire Visitations gives many instances of removal of Memorials put up by the Holme family, marks the route, the Inns where attendance was given, and the Mansions where he was entertained. Among these, within the Palatinates, were the Halls of the Earl of Derby, the Lords De la Mere, Cholmondeley, and Molineux, Sir Thomas Delves, Sir Thomas Wilbraham, and Sir Peter Leycester, and also the Mansions of Utkinton, Norbury, Carincham, and Rufford.

of the third, are in the British Museum; and the Calendars of these are made from entire transcripts of the MSS. named, taken by the writer, under a special permission in 1820. The fourth is in the College of Arms, and the Calendar of the entries in that Visitation is taken from a MS. hereafter mentioned. The titles of additional pedigrees, contained in the Office copies of the Visitations of 1613 and 1664, are added, in Italics, to the Calendars of them subjoined in the following pages.(1)

VISITATION OF M.D.XXXIII.

The MS. in the British Museum (Harl. MS. 2076,) which preserves the Record of this Visitation, is entitled "A Visitac'on "made in Lancashire and in a p'te of Chestershyre p' Lancast'r "Heraulde in ye xxiiiith yeare of o'r Soveraigne Lord Kinge "Henry VIIIth. by a Speciall Com'cion of Thom's Benoilt, alias "Clarencieux, King of the same Province."

The words "same province" must refer to the expression Clarencieux only, as it cannot mean "the same province" as that which contained Lancashire and Cheshire, both of which were in the Province of Norroy. Noble, seemingly on this account, refers this Visitation to Tonge, then Norroy; (2) but this argument is not conclusive, as Tonge himself, when Norroy, visited in the Province of Clarenceux. Dugdale states it to be by Tonge, in his transcript of it prefixed to his own Lancashire Visitation, (1) and Dallaway follows him in p. 315, but in p. 160, gives it to Benolt. The "Lancaster Herald" who executed it is believed to have been William Fellow, afterwards Norroy; and it is so noted in a hand seeming to be that of Robert Dale, Richmond Herald, in the margin of this Manuscript.

For some of the very peculiar entries in it, illustrative of the wild character of Lancashire in 1533, the reader is referred to Dallaway's work, p. 316.

The Copy of this Visitation in Harl. MS. 2076, "is not the "original. The original was in the possession of William Pierre-"point of Thoresby, Co. Notts., in 1688, when Sir William Dug-"dale, Norroy, made a transcript thereof, which he deposited in "the College of Arms, where it now remains. The MS. at Tho-"resby, together with the Library there, fell a sacrifice to the "dreadful fire which happened about 1745. The authenticity and "value therefore, of the copy made by Sir William Dugdale, is "undeniable." (2) It may, however, be considered that the Harleian MS. is either a coeval duplicate or the draft; and it possesses Ordinaries of Lancashire and Cheshire Arms not contained in the Office Copy. In one place it assumes the style of a report from the Visitant to his superior. (3)

(1) C. 37, Coll. Arm.

<sup>(1)</sup> On this, as on former occasions, the writer has to acknowledge, with many thanks, the kind and effective assistance of Sir Charles G. Young, Garter, and particularly on this occasion, for facilitating his references, and obliging him with the results of a collation of his MS. Calendars with the Office Copies of the Visitations of 1613 and 1664.

<sup>(3)</sup> This occurs in the mention of the Arms borne by Radclyffe of Ordshall, viz., 1 and 4 Sandbach, 2 and 3 Radclyffe, after which follows—"Sir, I suppose these Arms do stande out of order, as he beareth Radclyffe in the Seconde quarter."

VISITATION OF M.D.LXVII.

This Visitation was made by William Flower, Norroy, and the Official Record of it, preserved in the College of Arms, is in the narrative form. A beautiful copy, made by Flower's son-in-law, Robert Glover, Somerset Herald, who accompanied his relative in this Visitation, (Harl. MS. 2086,) is in tabulated form, and from this the Calendar is taken. Many opportunities have occurred of proving its correctness by collation of extracts with Flower's MS. (D 3,) in Coll. Arm.

No. 6159, Harl. MSS., is entitled "a Visitation of Lancashire in 1567 transcribed and augmented by William Smith, Rouge Dragon Poursuivant." This valuable MS. was, probably, the basis of a mutilated and interpolated collection in the Chetham Library at Manchester, (6719,) erroneously described(1) as "William Smith's Visitation of Lancashire, anno 1599." He, (Smith,) never visited the county, neither was it visited between 1567 and 1613 by any Herald.

VISITATION OF M.DC.XIII.

SIR RICHARD ST. GEORGE, Norroy, directed this Visitation, and the originals of the Pedigrees entered, or, at least, of the most part of them, are contained in Harl. MS. 1437. With these are mingled some others, as, for instance, the Chetham pedigree compiled in 1635, after the disputes with Humphrey Chetham, and subsequently entered in Dugdale's Visitation; but the pedigrees which were passed in 1613 are distinguishable from the others either by the signatures, or the word "ent." for entered.

All later additions to the MS. are omitted in the following Calendar. It contains pedigrees of collaterals or heirs general combined with the descent of the party entering, and titles of eight descents recorded in C 5, the Office Copy of this Visitation, but not in the Harl. MS., are given in Italics.

Some Church Notes of Chorley are added at the end of the Office Copy.

VISITATION OF M.DC.LXIV-V.

WILLIAM DUGDALE, Esq., then Norroy, commenced this Visitation in 1664, and completed it in the year following.

The Office Copy of it, (C 37,) preserved in the College of Arms, has an Appendix of Memorials from Church notes, separate Volumes containing the original signed returns and various papers connected with the Visitation, and several of the lists of disclaimers are also preserved.

Dugdale's Diary notes the commencement of the Visitation at Manchester, on Sept. 8, 1664, and continuations at Blackburn, Garstang, Lancaster, Preston, and Ormskirk, terminating with a visit to Knowsley, from whence he departed to Sir Peter Leycester's seat at Tabley, on Sept. 26.

In 1665, he recommenced at Manchester, with adjournments to Preston and Lancaster, taking Lancaster, Preston, and Ormskirk, in his return from Westmoreland, and after a visit to the mansion of Lord Molyneux, departing again to Tabley.

A large portion of this Visitation exists among the writer's Lancashire Collections at Sedbury, but no entire copy is known except the official ones in custody of the College of Arms. In 1803, a MS. existed at Broughton Hall, near Manchester, formerly the seat of the Chethams, headed thus—"These are a "copie of the Armes which are entered in the Visitation of Lan-"cashire made by me William Dugdale Esqre, Norroy Kinge of "Armes, in Anno 1664–5." The Arms were "tricked" or drawn in outline over each consecutive name in this Calendar, and at the end was added this note—"N.B. That when no Armes are en-"tered with the name of the party who gave in their descent, "either there was none then shewed, or no good cause made "therein."

This MS., considered to be original, and in the possession of Miss Clowes of Broughton in 1803, (the time above-mentioned,) was transcribed then by the writer's friend, J. H. Markland, Esq., and communicated to him in 1819. Eleven pedigrees occur in the Office Copy, which were not mentioned in this MS., and which are marked by Italics in the following Calendar. (1) This arrangement is chosen, because it exhibits the variations clearly, and its adoption makes the reference to the Official Volumes complete, and, at the same time, gives the Broughton MS. unaltered.

It may be proper to add that, omission of names in these Visitations, does not shew that the families bearing them were unrecognized by such authority. The very antient family of Hulton of Hulton, for instance, entered only in the first and last Visitations, and that of Gerard of Bryn in none. Entries were frequently made in other counties by collaterals, which recited the main descent, or by the principal line, when it had various residences. To such entries, an excellent guide will be found in an Index to the Heralds' Visitations, &c., in the British Museum,(1) recently published.

<sup>(1)</sup> No reason for this variation between the Broughton Calendar and the actual Visitation books has appeared, but there is no reason whatsoever for considering the pedigrees omitted in the Calendar to be less authentic on that account.

In one case a pedigree omitted in this Calendar had been clearly taken by a deputy or amanuensis, as was shewn by the original Visitation Book, but it was in Dugdale's hand in the Office Copy. The next that was referred to was of that Visiting Herald's own handwriting in both copies.

TO THE BALIVE OF THE HUNDRED OF SALFORD THESE

Whereas, by virtue of his Majesties Comission under ye great Seal of England to mee directed, you did receive a speciall Warrant from mee given at Manchester under the Seale of my office upon the 26 day of July last, for ye Authorizinge of yu to warne divers persons, residinge within the hundred of Salford in the County of Lancaster, to make their respective appearances before me at ye Sign of ye Kings head in Salford upon ye 9th day of ye month of September last, as well for the registringe their descents, and justifying their titles of Esquires and Gentlemen as their right to such Coats of Armes and Crests which they usually shew forth and bear.

And whereas, notwithstandinge such your notice, there are some amongst them, who have not, as yet, made their appearance accordingly, these are therefore by virtue of ye said Commission, further to charge and command yu, yt yu imediately [convey or communicate?] to every such person whose name is exprest in ye Schedule hereunto annexed, and to let them know, yt I shall once more require and expect, yt they make their appearance before mee at ye Sign of ye Kings head in Salford aforesaid, upon Saturday ye xith day of March next. And yt in case they or any of them shall refuse to doe, I must be enforced to adjorne them to attend ye Lords Commissioners for the office of Earle Marshall of England, to answer ye disobediance and contempt of his said Majesties commission above exprest.

Given under ye Seale of my office at London this second day of February in ye seventeenth year of ye raigne of our most Gracious Soveraigne Lord Charles ye second by ye grace of God of England, Scotland ffrance and Ireland Kinge, Defender of ye faith &c.

By mee Norroy King of Armes.

NOTE.

Accompanying the foregoing Schedule is another paper, in the handwriting of Sir William Dugdale, containing a list of fifty-four names of parties who had obeyed his former summons. It is headed, "In Salford Hundred these appeared and entred their descents."

By comparison with the Calendar of Names in the preceding article it will be seen that many families obeyed the latter summons and also recorded their pedigrees.

In the Heralds' College are some interesting letters addressed to Sir William Dugdale by gentlemen in Lancashire on the subject of this Royal Commission. Some, whose ancestors had long borne arms, disclaimed their right altogether; others stated that they were not entitled to any such distinction, not being "Gentlemen;" and the friends of some courteously assigned reasons for the summons not having been obeyed, e.g. "Mr. Beswyke of Manchester is in Ireland" — "Mr. Alex Butterworth of Belfield is a young man on his travels, but will enter on his return home." The Nonconformist families generally appear to have disdained the noble science, "feeling assured," as Macaulay (in the Edinburgh Review) observes of the old Puritan, "that if his name was not found in the Registers of Heralds it was recorded in the Book of Life, and hence originated his contempt for all terrestrial distinctions, accomplishments, and dignities." It may however, be easily inferred from his rough MS. notes now in the College of Arms, that Dugdale's high notions, not only of the Royal Prerogative, but also of his own office, led him in numerous instances to offend the prejudices of those whose views on both subjects were not exactly in accordance with his own. Of these, the following is a specimen:—

"July 23, 1666.

Hundesffeild.

Mr. James Halliwell of Pyke-house, his Estate 200li per ann. 3 or 4 Sons brought upp at University & some at Inns of Court, yett disclaymed under his hand rather than be at the charge. He is ritch and misserable & a Puritan withall."

The foregoing is extracted from a copy of the Visitation of Lancashire, made between the 23d and 30th years of the reign of King Henry VIII., by Thomas Tong, Norroy King of Arms, and now remaining in the College of Arms, being a copy of the same made by Sir William Dugdale, in 1688, when Norroy, from the original, which had been obtained by and was then in the possession of William Pierpont of Thoresby, in the county of Nottingham, Esq. The original was unfortunately destroyed in the fire which consumed that place about the middle of the last century.—Communicated by Sir C. G. Young, Garter.
